PRICE THREE CENTS.

EXPOSITION CONTESTS NOW ENDING AROUSE MUCH INTEREST

Nearly Perfect Children Narrow Down to Five This Afternoon—Eight Couples in Dancing Contest, With More Tonight.

The various contests held in connection with the Exposition are arousing much interest. The Perfect Child Contest is well underway and this afternoon the doctors will choose the most perfect five children from the fifteen that were not eliminated through comparison with the Albany and Washington standards in the examination held last Monday and Tuesday at the Exposition. The names of these five children to be selected this afternoon will be given to the management but not disclosed to the public until tomorrow evening, the closing night, when the winning children will appear on the stage of the amusement hall and receive their prizes.

The model contest is also well underway and there are expectations of a very large vote tonight. The ballots cast this evening will be added to those previously deposited and the prize awarded to the young lady receiving the greatest number.

In the contest for the most artistic booths and best displays the awards will be made before tomorrow noon by a committee of which Mrs. G. F. Rice, president of the Federated Women's Clubs is chairman. There will be five awards in this contest, first and second, manufacturers class, first and second in the merchants' class and one only for the most unique exhibit. Interest is keen among the exhibitors to learn which booths will be selected.

The judges of the dancing evening handed their list of those selected so far to the management and a few more will be added from the dancers this evening. Those chosen are Michael Fresco and partner, Al Proper and partner, Vincent Van Brauer and partner, J. Maroney and partner, J. Pennington and partner, Ray H. Senter and partner, A. Margolis and partner, Lewis Alcon and partner.

The above with the others selected tonight will be asked to appear on the floor after the entertainment tomorrow evening and they will be given the entire dancing space to exhibit their grace and skill in the tapshoerian art. Confident judges will select the couple exhibiting the best ball room dancing, to whom will be given handsome prizes. Fancy steps will not be asked and posture of the body and the method of holding will be considered as well as the actual steps and general grace of the dancers. The above couples will be danced in both fox trot and waltz. This will be very interesting to watch and it is expected a large crowd will remain after the regular entertainment to see this contest danced off.

CONKLING DANCES AGAIN TONIGHT

The dancing of Ross Conkling, formerly of the original Irene Company of New York and his partner, Miss Chase, proved to be one of the stellar attractions of the many splendid offerings on the Exposition programs. To the accompaniment of the best music that the Balle Orchestra has yet played they swung through the wonderfully graceful motions of the Spanish Tango with rare grace and rhythm. There is certainly an appeal to the senses in such dancing as this as sure as the appeal of sweet music and the great crowd present followed every movement of these well matched dancers with a breathless interest until their final bow when a storm of applause showed their appreciation of the splendid exhibition was presented.

This evening Mr. Conkling and Miss Chase will do a special Irene Waltz, steps which were an important feature in making that wonderfully popular opera such a big success and many here will welcome the opportunity to see this dance.

As a second number last evening, Mr. Conkling offered a singles called Pat Rooney in which he exhibited for the first time here some knee steps that were quite remarkable. This evening in the singles he will also present an ingenious dance requiring great dexterity.

DAZZO JAILED ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

Vincent Dazzo who has figured in the Port Ewen justice's court before, was there again on Thursday, when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Henry E. McKenzie on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree and held to await the action of the grand jury. He was arrested in New Paltz. It is alleged that Dazzo contracted to build a porch and received $100 with which to purchase lumber for the job, but failing to produce the lumber or return the money his arrest on the charge of grand larceny followed.

Newkirk Returned to Elmira. Charles Newkirk was taken into custody at Gardiner by the sheriff, Thursday, being wanted at Elmira for breaking his parole from the New York State Reformatory there. He was taken back by an orderly from that institution.

THURSDAY NIGHT AT EXPOSITION

Crowd Equal to That of Wednesday and Found Entertainment One of Best Yet—Tonight's Program.

A throng equal to that of Wednesday hit the sawdust trail at the Exposition Thursday evening without any Billy Sunday to beckon; the slide trombone, minus a Rodeheaver, did wonders for a group of pop-eyed kids that had made an informal entrance, the xylophonist caused repeated traffic jams with his dexterity and the chorus choir of eternally hot dogs voiced its suffering so loudly it scared the little hen pheasants.

The trail led through the auto tent, 500 feet of glittering cars ranked on either side, devilish machines, according to some, but indisputably popular. They were of all makes sold here—the cheapest, the costliest, small, large, roadster, touring, coupe, sedan, sport, limousine, many truck types and Schryver's camp trailer. Their immaculate varnish, plate glass and nickel fittings brilliantly reflected the electric lights and each radiated enticingly its own atmosphere of economy, utility, power or luxury.

Those who resisted this formidable temptation turned to the left and chose one of two trails which led through the main exhibition tent, flanked on both sides by booths displaying the most desirable articles of the tent to Kingston's commerce and industry. Here everybody paused, to inspect, or to sample the things that were given away such as hot coffee and flapjacks, the combined aroma of which was well nigh irresistible on a cool evening.

Surviving this, the trail hitters passed on into the big auditorium, their real goal. Here was provided an entertainment second to none that has preceded it. C. Baldwin Allen, the baritone, sang three songs that more than justified his being brought back to sing again; Joe Lorraine, banjoist extraordinary, gave many of the imitations, songs and jokes that convulsed the doughboys in France during the World War—imitations of airplanes, George Primrose, the minstrel, a darkly down south and his banjo, and a very creditable bell ringing number. Joe appeared under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., as did the Smith Brothers, wrestlers, not cough drop makers. These young fellows were so skillful and evenly matched that in two periods, one five-minute and one ten-minute, neither could secure a fall. Physical Director Miller of the Y. M. C. A. and Westbrook Stelle, of this city, gave a fast exhibition of fencing and the much advertised fencing act was seen for the first time. Mr. Conkling, of the original "Trene" company, and Miss Chase were vociferously applauded and encored with their varied "double" and "single" numbers.

Tomorrow this team will dance a special waltz, with singles by Mr. Conkling afterward. Saturday evening Mr. Conkling, assisted by two New York artists, will present two character dances.

DEIGMAN LOSES $75,000 VERDICT

The action of Matthew L. Deigman against the Ulster and Delaware railroad for $75,000 was tried in the Delaware county Supreme Court at Delhi Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday of this week. Mr. Deigman was injured when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a U. & D. train on December 6, 1921. He sustaining a broken arm and leg. In submitting the case to the jury the presiding justice left three questions in their hands to decide; first, whether the defendant was negligent; second, whether the plaintiff was negligent; and third if the defendant was negligent the amount of damages. The jury returned a verdict stating that they found both the defendant and plaintiff negligent upon which the court immediately ordered a verdict entered for the railroad company.

Joseph A. Shay of New York city was the attorney for the plaintiff and H. H. Flammang of this city for the defendant.

MILLER AND SMITH TALK IN WEST

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Dunkirk, N. Y., Oct. 27.—With only ten days left for the campaign, Alfred B. Smith, Democratic candidate for governor, arrived here today to continue his tour of the state.

At Rochester last night Smith spoke on traction and declared that Governor Miller had removed all local control from the great public service corporations and had violated the principle of non-partisan appointment.

Lockport, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Continuing his campaign through western New York, Governor Nathan L. Miller, Republican nominee for re-election arrived here today. He will address a mass meeting tonight.

In a speech last night at Buffalo, Governor Miller declared the Democratic platform is "an appeal to ignorance in an attempt to catch the unwary, an effort to seek prejudices and uninformed opinion."

When the governor told why he sent state troopers into Buffalo in the trolley strike, he was cheered and booed.

MRS. SMITH TOOK DOSE OF STRYCHNINE BY MISTAKE

Rushed to Kingston City Hospital Thursday Night.

A hurry call for the ambulance was received at police headquarters Thursday evening from the home of Mrs. Schermerhorn at No. 49 Cedar street, who stated that her daughter, Mrs. Anna Smith, had taken a dose of strychnine, mistaking it for medicine. Officers Burger and Harnen hurried to the house and removed the young woman to the Kingston City Hospital where she was attended by Dr. E. E. Norwood. This morning at the hospital it was stated that she was settling along nicely.

START ON NEW HOTEL DELAYED

By Negotiations With New Interests in New York to Take Mortgage—Tschirky's New York Contract Caused Failure of First Deal.

The new Van Winkle Hotel which is to be built on the site of the Sharpe property will be delayed in building because of arranging with a new mortgage in New York city for part of the funds to be used in the construction of the hotel.

Recently when the mortgage and other papers were about to be executed, certain conditions were proposed by the bank to which the mortgage was to be executed which were impossible of fulfillment on account of the contract under which Oscar Tschirky, the president of the Van Winkle Hotel Company, operates the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel as general manager.

This situation has made it necessary to make other negotiations which are now going forward. Such negotiations naturally will require as much time as was consumed in the original negotiations.

Meanwhile the money subscribed by Kingston city and Ulster county stockholders of the hotel company is remaining on deposit in this city, having been placed by Treasurer Cornelius S. Treadwell of the Chamber of Commerce in a special account which is drawing interest for the benefit of such stockholders. Under the subscription agreement, this money is not to be used until it is matched dollar for dollar by Mr. Tschirky and his New York associates, who also are pledged to attend to the other financial matters. This situation is thoroughly understood by the stockholders.

TO CHANGE OVER AGAIN SUNDAY

Two More Sections of City To Be Temporarily Without Electric Current While Improvements Are Being Made.

On Sunday, October 29th, the Kingston Gas and Electric Company will continue the work of changing over, its electric distribution system from 2 phase to 3 phase current. The section south of Broadway and west of the West Shore Railroad tracks will be affected. The section north of Broadway and west of Clinton avenue will also be affected. The work will be started at six o'clock a. m. and will continue through the day until service has been completely restored. Service will be interrupted at 6 a. m., and will be reestablished as quickly as possible, the important points affected being cared for first. Particular attention will be paid to the establishment of service for the churches.

This changeover will allow all old equipment to be removed from the Jansen avenue electric station and the complete construction program to be rounded out. Last Sunday's cut over brought the new outdoor substation on the Boulevard into service for the first time making possible the discontinuance of the overhead 33,000 volt line feeding in over O'Reilly street. The city is now fed by a 30,200 volt line from the Boulevard sub-station which goes into underground cable at Mary's avenue and O'Reilly street and enters the Jansen avenue station underground. The distribution system changeover has already made an improvement in the voltage, conditions throughout the city.

The company again asks the indulgence of the public during the present period of transition. The work will be carried on with the greatest possible speed and with the least possible inconvenience to the public. It is of extreme importance that the company be allowed access to the properties of consumers so that the direction of rotation may be checked.

On complaints received by the County Fuel Administration that Meyer Slatin, coal dealer at Pine Hill, N. Y., was distributing coal in lots in excess of the amount permitted by the order of the State Fuel Administrator, Deputy Fuel Administrator O'Connor visited Pine Hill and found that the complaints were well founded.

Mr. Slatin was ordered to remove from the houses and hotels the coal delivered in excess of the amount permitted by the Fuel Administration and warned that in his failing to do so he would be prosecuted for violation of the law. Mr. Slatin decided to remove the coal and proceeded to do so at once.

Complaints to the Fuel Administration from other localities are being investigated.

The present situation on the coal supply is such that only by the cooperation of all dealers and consumers and a fair and equitable distribution can a serious condition be averted.

The Fuel Administration in Ulster County is determined to do all in its power to enforce the law as laid down by the State Fuel Administration Act, in order that the limited supply of coal that is available is equitably distributed and that the small consumer gets his share and is properly cared for. The Pine Hill case proves that if this was not done, favorites would receive more than their share, while small consumers suffered.

ROSE SHOWS EFFECTS OF WOUND

Has Slight Attack of Facial Paralysis, and Bullet Hole in Head Discharges But He is Cheerful.

Tom Rose, who is in the Ulster county jail being held in custody growing out of the shooting and resulting death of Mame Spaulding, a woman with whom Rose had been living in Converse street, this city, several weeks ago, and who it is alleged shot himself in the head after the woman was shot, was found to be suffering from severe twitching of nerves in his face Thursday. Dr. John T. Buckley, the jail physician, and Dr. John G. O'Harey, attended him about noon, and later Dr. Loughran was called by the sheriff, the latter being suggested by District Attorney Traver. It is said the attacks were facial paralysis and are slight. Rose is about the jail seemingly in good spirits and Jailer Every said he appeared to be in good condition.

Rose was in the Kingston City Hospital for a month or more after the killing of the Spaulding woman and it was the opinion of attending surgeons that he had but a slight chance for recovery as the bullet which had entered at the right temple was in such a position it was hazardous to extract it and since then matter said to come from his brain has been coming out of the wound in the temple. He recovered sufficiently to be removed to the jail and is being held there for the death of the woman. While in jail he has been in good spirits, joking with his fellow inmates and playing cards and apparently on the road to complete recovery. His case has been considered far out of the ordinary for one wounded as he is, but now it is thought the twitching of the facial nerves is an indication that other more serious developments can be expected.

KEATOR JAILED; FAILED TO REPORT

Alonso Keator who was arrested several months ago for stealing chickens from a man named Britt residing on the Plank Road in the town of Ulster a short distance from the Esopus creek bridge, and indicted, was taken into custody Thursday by Sheriff Kolts and locked in jail. Keator was out on bail and went to South Glendon, to work and as he failed to report to the court a warrant for his arrest was issued for abandoning his bail. His case will come up in county court November 13.

HAD WHISKEY; IS BROUGHT TO JAIL

Board of Water Supply police brought John Allen to the county jail Thursday afternoon who will await the action of the grand jury for violation of the Mullan-Gage law in having had in his possession a quantity of what is purported to be whiskey in the town of Shandaken. He was committed by Justice of the Peace H. W. Misner of Pine Hill.

THREE BILLION IN 1922 BUILDING

Americans Break All Records in Home Construction.

SPEND BILLION ON HOUSES

Exceeding Outlay for All Construction in Any Year Up to 1917, Survey Shows—Strikes, General Unrest and High Costs No Block to Building—New Business and Industrial Structures in Country Represent an Outlay of $650,000,000.

Total building construction in the United States during the first nine months of this year reached the "unprecedented sum of $2,000,000,000," S. W. Straus of New York announced in making public a nation-wide survey of the building situation, showing that a "wave of home building by private owners has swept the entire country this year."

More Americans became home owners during the present year than in any previous year in our history, declared Mr. Straus, explaining that expenditures for building up to October 1 exceeded the previous record year of 1920 by $1,000,000,000. He said that while this was significant of prosperity, "even more significant, however, is the fact that about $1,000,000,000 has been spent in homes in America since January 1."

Home ownership in the United States, Mr. Straus commented, was a "splendid stabilizer, because people who own their own homes are not susceptible to the teachings of dangerous radicals."

Referring to this year's record construction, Mr. Straus said:

"The nearest approach to this was in 1920 when, during the corresponding period (January 1 to October 1), a little more than $2,000,000,000 was absorbed by the industry. For the same period in 1921 and 1919 the amount of money spent in new buildings was slightly in excess of $1,500,000,000."

Home Building Has Doubled.

"Thus, it is shown that new buildings in the United States so far this year represent the expenditure of about twice as much money as at any previous similar period in the history of the country, excepting 1920, and we have passed that record year by a billion dollars. Moreover, building material costs were at their peak in 1920, so the gain in actual new building space this year is even greater than the figures indicate."

"Even more significant, however, is the fact that about $1,000,000,000 has been spent in homes in America since January 1. To appreciate this it must be borne in mind that our home building program for the first nine months this year represents a larger outlay than was made for buildings of all kinds during any previous year in the history of the nation prior to 1917, and the indications are that for the entire year our home building program will represent a larger outlay of cash than was spent for all building purposes during any year before 1919."

"While statistics are not available showing what percentage of this billion dollars represents new individual home ownership, the statement can be made with safety that nothing before has ever compared with the wave of home building by private owners that has swept the entire country this year. In 1920 there were 25,000,000 families in the United States, 11,400,000 of whom owned their own homes. This amount has been enormously increased, however, as there was a gain of 71 per cent in permits for one-family houses in 1921 and this year will show a greater gain. It is anticipated."

Strikes No Block to Building.

"It is important that in the face of various obstacles the building industry during the year of 1922 has been able to show such a marvellous growth. When we consider the many serious strikes and the general unrest that exists abroad, it is truly remarkable that so much new building has been done this year. It demonstrates the fundamental strength of American business as nothing else can do, and the figures which have just been quoted should be a note of optimism to the entire business world."

"However, it is even more important that there has been such a large increase in home ownership in the United States. This is one of the best proofs that Americans are coming to understand the value of thrift, for no phase of thrift is as significant of right thinking and right living by the public as home ownership."

"The total amount of money spent so far this year for buildings of business and industrial types has been $650,000,000."

POLES BUY 7,500 CARS HERE

Warsaw Reports Show Rail Traffic is Increasing.

Railroad traffic in Poland is increasing. During the first six months of the present year it was 20 per cent greater than during the same period in 1921.

The Polish government has purchased from the United States 7,500 freight cars of a capacity of 30 tons each, and it is negotiating for a loan of freight cars from other countries, until the Polish railway equipment factories are able to deliver the first lot of cars now being made.

Seems Reasonable.

We do not in the least object to a row in an adjoining apartment. But if we are kept awake by it we think it only fair and equitable that we should be permitted thoroughly to understand, and enjoy it.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

U. S. Senator John K. Shields, Democrat of Tennessee, has been mentioned by President Harding as Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, to succeed Justice William R. Day, who resigned. He will be the first Southerner to be named by President Harding.

Discovery Yet to Be Made. Persians believe that on a certain charmed day—a secret which but few have ever discovered—the rose has a heart of pure gold.

The Limit. "There isn't much I don't know about the English language," boasted the long-haired man in the hotel lobby. "I'll test you," a friend picked him up quickly. "I'll dictate a paragraph to you." With an assured air the boaster seized his pencil, but his jaw dropped as he heard: "As Hugh Hughes was hewing a yule log from a yew tree, a man dressed in clothes of dark blue hue came up to Hugh and said: 'Have you seen my ewes? If you will wait until I hew this yew tree I will go with you anywhere in Europe to look for your ewes,' said Hugh."

VOTING CONSISTENTLY.

Co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of the state government is necessary to a continuance of the proficiency which has been put into effect since January 1, 1921, by Governor Miller. Without the aid of a legislature in harmony with his high ideals, no change could have been accomplished, state expenditures could not have been reduced, state taxes could not have been lowered.

The Republican party has shown itself ready and anxious to vote for the bills which would put the governor's practical policies of economy in effect. A Democratic legislature would have prevented, as a matter of politics, the necessary bills from becoming laws. On the eve of an election which is of the utmost importance to the people of the state of New York, the Republican party is pledged to stand behind the governor, while the Democratic attitude of obstruction is heralded by the Democratic platform and speakers in a way which nobody can misunderstand.

So the question is presented squarely to the voters of New York state whether they will continue Governor Miller for two years more but tie his hands so as to prevent continuation of the desirable policies he has inaugurated, or whether they will give him full support of a legislature whose pledge to aid the governor in his commendable efforts to give more efficient government is a guarantee of greater efficiency at less expense.

Governor Miller in his public addresses and speeches ever since he came in office nearly two years ago has pointed out the way in which state expenditures could be reduced and public efficiency increased by the men and women already employed by the state. Month by month he has demonstrated the truth of his statements and proved his ability to fulfill his promises.

Without a senate and assembly whose platform and pledges are the same as his own, the great record of efficiency and economy started by Governor Miller would have been impossible. The people have shown that they want Governor Miller to give two years more of his unusual talents to their service in order to continue to the logical conclusion the policies he inaugurated, but he will not be able to do as they want unless they provide him with a Republican legislature.

In voting, it is always well for every voter to stop and consider: "Suppose my vote should decide the election?" The way to continue the good work for which everyone has been clamoring for years is to return Governor Miller to Albany for two years more, and to provide him with a Republican legislature in sympathy with his policies of economy and service. In Ulster county this will mean a vote for Arthur F. Bouton for state senator and a vote for Simon B. Van Wagenen for member of assembly.

The coal commission authorized by Congress and appointed by President Harding has organized and mapped out its plan of procedure. Informal conferences will be first held with representatives of the mine owners and miners, and then the task will be begun of collecting all possible information concerning the industry. The object of the commission will be to suggest practical means "to insure a constant supply of this most necessary commodity at as reasonable prices as are consistent with fair wages and profits to those engaged in the industry." The high character of the men selected by Mr. Harding for the commission's personnel is an assurance to the country that everything humanly possible will be done to relieve the people from further annoyances incident to coal strikes. If the expected results follow from the commission's activities, it will be an achievement to the credit of the Republican administration that will have a direct appeal to every household in the country.

Over-regulation is the cause ascribed by Secretary Hoover for the car shortage from which the country is now suffering. He declares that the railroads have been so hampered by restrictive legislation in the last twenty years that they find it difficult to finance the cost of new equipment necessary to keep pace with the increasing industrial needs of the country. Mr. Hoover estimates that the car shortage each year leaves a charge against the producers and the consumers of the necessities of life equal to the annual cost of running the government. Fortunately the railroads are not being persecuted now as they once were, and there is a decided tendency to recognize the necessity of a reasonable profit for railroad capital if the transportation system is to be maintained.

JUDGMENT FOR TRUST COMPANY

And Against George Palmer, Executor of Nathurst's Note—Mrs. Lifer Seeks Damages, For Being Hit by Croulin's Auto.

In the action brought by the Kingston Trust Company against J. G. Nathurst and George Palmer to recover on a promissory note, judgment was directed by the court in favor of plaintiff and against defendant George Palmer. The question was not submitted to the jury, judgment being directed before the complete testimony was in. Mr. Nathurst being out of the state he was not served and the action was brought against Mr. Palmer, the endorser of the note.

Another negligence action growing out of an automobile accident was taken up. The action brought by Mattie L. Lifer against John P. Croulin to recover for personal injuries sustained when it is alleged defendant's car struck plaintiff was taken up by the court and jury. Andrew J. Cook appears for plaintiff and Judge James Jenkins for defendant.

Mrs. Lifer who resides on Delaware avenue near Kingston Point Park claims she was struck by defendant's automobile on August 27, 1921, while she was walking from her home to a stand which she and her son ran near the parking grounds at the Point where soft drinks etc. were sold. She claims that defendant's car came up behind her and without warning struck her from the back. She did not know what struck her. She suffered injuries to her back and also became so nervous that even today she suffers from nerve troubles. Her back still troubles her to such an extent that she can not do her own work and has been unable to go out to work as she previously did. For these injuries she seeks damages.

Defendant claims that he sounded his horn and that as he approached Mrs. Lifer she stepped out in the roadway and before he stopped his car she was struck. The blow did not knock her off her feet. At the point where the accident happened there are no sidewalks.

But one more case will be tried at this term of court which will adjourn this week.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. How do bats multiply?
2. Is the night-jar the real name of this bird?
3. Do trees have both staminate and pistillate flowers on the same tree?

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Please describe the white pine, touching on height, softness of bark, etc.

Pinus strobus, known almost everywhere as white pine, has five needles, slender bluish green, giving a fluffy look to the tree. Good forest specimens grow to 125 feet, about three feet diameter, and may reach 300 years in age, but most specimens do not get a chance to live that long, as this is a splendid lumber tree. We don't know what the correspondent means about soft bark. The wood is rather soft, but a fine straight grain that recommends it for innumerable purposes where great durability is not needed.

2. How can I soften insect specimens that have become stiff?
- Put clean sand in a tin pan or box (tomato can will do), and dampen the sand with hot water. Put the specimen on some sort of stretcher to keep it just off the surface of the sand (A bit of wire net laid on tiny sticks is practical). Cover the can and set it where it will keep slightly warm. If the specimen does not soften in a few hours, add a drop of carbolic or similar disinfectant to the damp sand, to prevent mildew.

3. Do any birds except mockers sing by night?

The very thrush does, though you will not find this point covered in all the ornithologies; also the wood and hermit thrush. They sing in the long summer evenings until real dark has settled down; and during the incubating period they very sometimes sing at intervals through the night. We suppose by "sing" you do not mean give call notes, like those of owls, night hawks, etc.

SYMBOL OF RUSSIAN TRAGEDY

The Bourgeois, Popular Invention, Shows to What Depths the People Have Been Reduced.

A bourgeoisie is a small sheet iron stove, writes Eleanor Franklin Fann in the Saturday Evening Post. Or it may be only a 5-gallon gasoline can with a little door at one end and a hole in the top to let out the smoke. It is an institution in soviet Russia and is an invention of the kind of which necessity is the mother.

In the communistic habitations of the ruined and homeless bourgeoisie it takes the place of both heating arrangements and the kitchen range. Nearly everybody makes his own bourgeoisie out of whatever materials he may be able to come by, and in social circles it provides a topic of conversation of never-ending interest. Their habits and the various methods employed to regulate them are matters of primary importance.

Its name, bestowed upon it in ironical derision, denotes its relationship to the general scheme of things. It burns nothing but tiny bits of wood and is therefore very economical, but when it is first set going it smokes considerably, with the result that practically every bourgeoisie home in Russia—such as it is—smells as though its flues were badly out of order.

It is capable of bringing the average winter temperature in a fair-sized room up to zero, or maybe to 10 degrees above, and this is as much comfort as the bourgeoisie are expected to require. This sounds like an exaggeration, but it is not. It would be impossible to exaggerate any phase of the tragedy that has befallen Russia.

BOY SCOUTS

Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

EXECUTIVES' CONFERENCE

The second biennial conference of scout executives held at Blue Ridge, N. C., in September, proved to be the largest meeting of professional leaders of boys ever held in the world. Over 400 executives from all parts of the country, devoting their full time to the work of scouting, and a group of experts in executive management, leadership, education, recreation, out-of-door activities, camp and woodcraft, Indian lore and boy psychology, met for the purpose of training and discussion. These executives are regarded as the "key-plans" so to speak, of this great movement numbering 500,000 boys and men. On them rests the responsibility of maintaining standards and keeping the work efficient and progressive, and of bringing within the reach of every boy in this country, regardless of birth, creed or nationality, the advantages of the scout movement—namely, character building and citizenship training through a program of work and play in the out-of-doors.

The earliest morning hour each day of the conference was devoted to a training course for new executives. This was under the leadership of Lorne W. Barclay, national director of education, B. S. of A. Among the speakers were James E. West, chief scout executive; A. A. Shuck, executive of Reading, Pa.; George E. Ehler, national director of records; E. B. De Groer, executive of Los Angeles; James M. Brockway, executive of Portland, Ore.; and Dr. George J. Fisher, deputy chief scout executive, and E. St. Elmo Lewis of New York, Detroit and Chicago, who delivered a powerful series on antisemitism, finances and budgets, advertising and publicity, records and accounting, the executive and the community.

Then came a good morning sing, followed by inspirational talks on "Service," given by Franklin K. Matthews, chief scout librarian; Prof. H. H. Horne, professor of history of education and philosophy at New York university; Rev. John F. White, educational director of boy scout extension, national Catholic Welfare council, and others.

Each afternoon the conference liked in true scout fashion to the woods of the Blue Ridge hills, to learn from some of this country's greatest recreation experts the activities in the open that boys love. The men built lean-tos of branches, improvised beds of balsam boughs, learned to tie a diamond hitch, light camp fires without matches—even when dampness prevails—that would fill an uninhabited with total disaster; they learned how to blaze new trails, and more than one method of finding their way when lost in the woods.

National Scout Commissioner Dan Beard, actual pioneer of many years' experience, daily gave demonstration of campcraft and woodcraft. Commodore W. E. Longfellow, noted swimmer and official of the American Red Cross, gave instruction in lifesaving by land and by water.

New games—red-blooded boy games that call for "sportsmanlike" attitude, that develop strength and clear thinking and are filled with the joy of adventure, were demonstrated by Charles F. Smith, in charge of the Scoutmaster's Training School at Columbia university, and by Dr. E. K. Fretwell, also of Columbia, both of whom are authorities on the subject of recreation. Ralph Hubbard, expert plainsman, student for many years in Indian ceremonies, interpreted Indian lore and exhibited his collection of Indian relics. Mr. James A. Wilder, artist, author, boy expert and chief scout, Boy Scouts of America, came to the conference from Hawaii. L. L. McDonald, national director of camping, shared with his colleagues the knowledge and experience he had gained from study and inspection of scout camps throughout the country; safety measures; programs for camps, camp sanitation and real cooking were features Mr. McDonald emphasized. Prof. J. C. Elsom, director of scout courses of the University of Wisconsin, and Prof. E. Laurence Palmer, assistant professor of rural education of Cornell university, contributed special ideas on out-of-door work and play. Also one of the national council officers, George D. Pratt, treasurer, who for many years has been a member of the Camp Fire Club of America, took part in the out-of-door instruction.

THE PIONEER SCOUT

A pioneer scout is a scout who, because of distance or other reasons, cannot associate himself with a troop, and hence carries on his scouting alone. After the manner of the great early pioneers.

SCOUTS TO LAY TRAIL

Boy scouts of the Bronx, New York, are laying a trail which will completely encircle the Kanawake Lake camps, and will measure 40 level miles, which will be extended from 25 to 50 per cent when all the hills and valleys are included. Portions of this trail have already been marked, but many of the markers have disappeared. The trail follows a path of remarkable scenic beauty and the scouts' work as trail layers will be a real good turn to all who enjoy hiking.

CAME BY CHANCE

New Yorker's Explanation of Origin of Ice-Cream Soda.

Customer Who Insisted on Cooling Drink Credited With the Invention of the Popular Beverage.

This is the day and generation of the soda-fountain feeders. With prohibition has come the rapid rise of the sandwich section of the marble bar, the lunch that is quick but not free. The soda fountain has covered the country along with the car, the phonograph and the film. They have all been accepted, it seems, as among the greatest of life's safe improvements.

Of the whole lot, the soda fountain has shown the greatest recent change. An interesting sequel to the eighteenth amendment is a definite demand for the installation of a milk pump in the middle of every modern fountain. With the milk pump has come the urn and a demand for fresh-brewed coffee, for fresh orange juice, and for stacks of assorted sandwiches. The latest soda fountain has more attachments than an automobile.

But despite all these minor additions, a soda fountain is still a soda fountain and not a restaurant, or a fruit stand, or a coffee counter. These have not interfered with its main mission. It still does its biggest business in the sale of those original "American" concoctions commonly called soft drinks, remarks a writer in the New York Sun.

Not so long ago there was no such thing as an "ice-cream" soda. The pride of a first-class fountain was not in the number of its sirup pumps nor in its jars of crushed fresh fruit. Rather, was rank gauged by the number of kinds of mineral water kept on hand. Plain charged water was not served out as vichy or seltzer or anything else a customer happened to ask for.

"The soda clerks of today don't know any better, most of them," said an old-timer. "They think all carbonated water is about the same thing."

"Why, one place on Broadway must have had eight or ten mineral waters on draft all the time. Vichy and Kissingen, Kaiser and Seltzer, Deep Rock, half a dozen others. They came in by the barrel, mostly from Saratoga."

"Every place else had them, too. The older stores, the bar at the Hoffman house, the Fifth Avenue hotel, the Victoria, the Imperial, the Alhambra. It was the regular thing to take a couple of glasses of mineral water for soda, or even phosphate, which was then rated as a tonic, in the morning."

"This demand for an early drink was the thing that led to the discovery of ice-cream soda. Of course, Philadelphia claims that ice-cream soda was invented down there, and went so far as publicly to give Robert Green credit for starting it. They gave him the credit after he was dead. But they can hardly make a clear case, and I hold to the Eighth Avenue version of its invention. New York has just as good a claim."

"The thing was entirely accidental. Early in the morning a customer came into a lower Eighth Avenue drug store and asked for a glass of soda. The proprietor apologized because he had no ice, and offered a plate of ice cream instead."

"That was no substitute for the thing wanted. The customer wanted soda, and insisted that the ice cream be put into it if there was no ice available. That was done. The result was remarkable, and ice cream soda has been spreading over the country ever since."

"Sundae is a much later idea. The sale of them began, I think, by an effort to evade in a legal manner the old Sunday-closing laws, when ice cream parlors were not open. Drug stores were generally not closed, and here ice cream was camouflaged and sold as a 'sundae.'"

"But nobody ever believed that sitting at a soda fountain would take rank as a great popular diversion all over the United States. In less than one generation that has happened. Times change."

Skill.
Randolph Blaschka, the only man in the world who can make perfect glass models of flowers and grass, is "doing" a collection of his works of skill for Harvard's botanical museum. Blaschka can make an orchid out of glass, perfect even to the delicate coloring. His art was passed on to him by his discoverer, his father.

If you can figure out what put the notion of making glass flowers into the brain of the elder Blaschka, you will know what makes one man want to be a machinist, another a lawyer. Some guiding force is back of it all, keeping a rough balance.

Adhesive From Castor Bean.

The committee on adhesive research in England has just announced that the castor bean, after it has been freed from its oil content, can be used for the manufacture of a good grade of adhesive, which finds use in the preparation of plastics, in dyeing, etc.

Uncle Sam's Biggest Country Store

Delivering $1,000,000 Every Month to Russia via Food Package System

Making Up Food Packages
A. R. A. Food Remittance
Warehouse, Moscow

The "Ultimate"
Consumer

The Packages Being
Loaded for Delivery
in Moscow

A business whose gross income has averaged nearly $1,000,000 monthly for a period of nine months without any profits to its conductors does not sound like a remunerative proposition, and calculated in dollars and cents it is not. But the hundreds of thousands of Russian men and women who represent the army of consumers of food packages, purchased by their friends and relatives in this country through the American Relief Administration, will testify that the operation brought them inestimable happiness.

The A. R. A. has announced that during the nine months ending October 1 applications for purchase of ten-dollar food packages aggregating more than $8,000,000 have been received at New York headquarters, 42 Broadway.

When remittances reach Moscow, where they are sent by courier from London, they are forwarded by the A. R. A. courier service in Russia directly to the district in which the designated beneficiary is located. The food packages are made up in the big Food Remittance warehouse at Moscow, two scenes of which are shown above, and shipped by rail and motor truck to the districts. Every district is kept well supplied by the Moscow depot, so that delivery of the food package is almost simultaneous with the receipt of the remittance.

The A. R. A. Food Remittance system was inaugurated two years ago during the feeding operations in Eastern and Central Europe, and provided a means whereby adults in the stricken countries could be reached by friends and relatives in this country. The food package has been so standardized that by purchasing the products that make it up in large quantities the A. R. A. has been able to deliver more than ten dollars' worth of food, at market prices, in each package, despite the fact that twenty-five per cent of all Food Remittances is taken out and set aside for child feeding.

The package, delivered in two wooden containers, consists of 49 pounds of flour, 25 of rice, 20 cans of evaporated milk, ten pounds of sugar, ten of lard and three of tea, or 120 pounds in all. In Russia today, were it possible to purchase all of these ingredients, the package would cost in the neighborhood of 100,000,000 roubles.

Following the announcement that it will continue to feed 1,300,000 children, and probably a million adults during the approaching winter, the American Relief Administration has further announced that food package deliveries will be continued. Money may be sent, either for specified beneficiaries or for general relief, to the Russian Food Remittance Department, American Relief Administration, 42 Broadway, New York.

MRS. LIFER GETS VERDICT OF $300

In Her Action Against Cronin for Damages—Wilklow vs. Yonkers Fruit Company Last Case This Term.

A verdict in the sum of $300 was returned this morning in the action brought by Mrs. Hattie L. Lifer against John P. Cronin. Mrs. Lifer sought damages for personal injuries sustained when she was struck by defendant's automobile while walking along Dealware avenue near Kingston Point.

The last case to be tried at this term of court is that of Abram P. Wilklow and son of Highland against the Yonkers Fruit Company. Mr. Wilklow who conducted a fruit farm near Highland seeks to recover moneys in the sum of $331.50 for fruit and $232.72 for expressage on a quantity of grape baskets which were shipped to him by defendants. The money due for fruit is admitted by defendants. Mr. Wilklow claims that one member of the firm came to his place in 1922 and asked him to sell his crop of grapes, amounting to about 30 tons, and ship them in 20 pound baskets. Mr. Wilklow refused to do so out he said he would ship them in bushel baskets. This was not the way the fruit company wanted them so the deal was not completed according to Mr. Wilklow. Later a car of 20 pound baskets arrived at the station by express and Mr. Wilklow was notified. He conferred with an official of the fruit company and he says he agreed to accept the baskets and pay the expressage and hold the baskets for the fruit company at his farm but he did not agree to buy the baskets or ship his fruit in them. He was to hold the baskets pending disposition by the fruit company. As he had done business with the firm for years the expressage was paid and he carried the baskets to his farm.

Later payment for the basket was demanded and Mr. Wilklow refused. An action was started to recover the amount of the expressage and for Bartlett pears which had been shipped to the Yonkers Fruit Company.

The company admits owing the money for the pears but denied owing the plaintiff money for expressage. They claim that it was agreed that they were to furnish the baskets and were to receive the grape crop of Mr. Wilklow at $105 a ton. As they did not receive the grapes and were compelled to go out and purchase grapes at a price of about $200 a ton they claim damages amounting to about $2,800. They claim that Mr. Wilklow agreed to ship grapes at $105 a ton but that when the price of grapes went up to about $200 he backed out and sold the grapes elsewhere. John W. Eckert appears for the Messrs. Wilklow and Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr., appears for the fruit company.

All jurors not engaged on the present case were excused for the term with the thanks of the court for their sacrifice in attending the present term of court at such personal inconveniences as they were compelled to suffer.

MAKE WAR ON "BABY TALK"

Cincinnati School Authorities Have Issued Special Appeal to Women's Clubs of the City.

An appeal has been made by the school authorities of Cincinnati to the mothers of that city to enlist in a war against "baby talk," and its effects on their children, and a special speaker has been appointed to carry this cause to the mothers' clubs.

While much of the talk with which fond mothers beguile their babies may sound very foolish to others, it seems to sound good to the baby, and while the claim that it makes stutters and causes other defects of speech may have some truth in it, the "baby talk" will bear comparison with much other talk heard by children.

While good speech is important, the matter is of more importance than the manner—in fact, good matter naturally tends to good manner in speech. It is at least quite as important that parents, fathers as well as mothers, are careful to select the right subject matter for talk before and to their children as that baby talk be eliminated. Try, as they may, the teachers are likely to have a hard time anyway to convince many mothers that baby talk is not the proper language in which to address the baby, both as to subject matter and method of speech.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Looks Like George.

Mrs. R. D. M. writes: "Last Sunday afternoon I told my little girl that her father was asleep, and that I wanted her and her brother to be as silent as the Sphinx. A moment later I heard her repeat my warning to her brother, aged seven, and inquire what a 'Sphinx' was."

"Why, don't you know?" answered Robert, who is quite a student for his age. "A Sphinx is a big thing that grows in Egypt and looks like George Washington."—Boston Transcript.

ARMIES OF WOMEN WARRIORS

Amazons, According to Ancient Writers, Were Fierce Fighters—Some Records of Their Deeds.

According to ancient writers, the Amazons were a nation of female warriors, who allowed no men to live among them, but marched to battle under command of their queen. They held occasional intercourse with the men of neighboring states. If boys were born to them, they either sent them to their fathers or killed them. But the girls were brought up for war, and their breasts were burned off that they might not be prevented from bending the bow. From this custom they received the name of Amazons, which is "breastless."

The Asiatic Amazons are said to have at one time subdued the whole of Asia, and to have built Smyrna, the city recently captured and burned by the Turks, and other cities.

Other nations of Amazons mentioned by the ancients were the Scythian Amazons, who in aftertimes married among the neighboring Scythians, and the African Amazons, who subdued the Gorgons and Atlantes, marched through Egypt and Arabia, and founded their capital on the Lake Tritons, but were annihilated by Hercules.

Miner Tells of Miraculous Escape From Death.

As Instrument of Preserving Man From Dreadful End, Animal Was Honored by Community.

This true story of the almost miraculous rescue of a man imprisoned in the shaft of a lead mine was told to the writer, Cora Cole McCullough, by a member of her family. We quote it from Our Dumb Animals (Boston), says the Literary Digest:

Many years ago I was living in Montana. A smelter had been built and it created a demand for silver rock. I owned an interest in a lead mine that had been sunk over thirty feet. Thinking the time had come to make it available, I decided to go there and get some ore and have it tested. I did so, and reached the place just in time to take shelter in the mine from a terrible hail storm. I lighted my candle, went to the bottom, and went to work. I had not been there more than five minutes when I heard a noise that sounded like a cannon. The rock over my head shook and in a moment the shaft caved in. You can imagine my feelings better than I can describe them, when I found myself buried alive.

I tremble even at this distant day, when I think of that moment. The roof of the shaft was made of rocks, and when they came down they did not pack so tightly, but that the air came through. There was nothing I could do to release myself. I knew that if relief did not come from the outside I must perish. No one knew that I had gone there. A road ran past the mouth of the shaft, but it was not traveled much, and I was not likely to attract attention by calling. Nevertheless, I shouted at intervals all day.

The following morning I commenced calling again, and all day, whenever I thought I heard a sound I shouted. When night came again, all hopes of being released were abandoned. I will not dwell on the agonies I endured. The morning of the fourth day of my imprisonment I heard something crawl into my grave.

I lighted my candle and saw a rabbit. There was only one aperture large enough to admit him; I closed it to prevent his escape. I saw in him food to appease my hunger, and my hand was raised to kill him, when a thought occurred to me that prevented the blow from descending.

I had two fishing lines. Their united length would reach the road. I took off my shirt, tore it into strips, tied them together and then to the fish line. I then tied the end made out of my shirt around the rabbit's neck and let him out. He soon reached the end of the line, and I knew by the way he was pulling that he was making a desperate effort to escape. Soon the tugging ceased, and as I knew that gnawing was one of a rabbit's accomplishments, I thought he had gnawed himself loose. About three hours afterward I felt the line pull, and some one called. I tried to answer, but the feeble noise I made died away in the cavern. I then pulled the line a little to show that I was still alive. All grew still again, and I knew the person had gone for assistance. Then came the sound of voices. I pulled in the line and it brought me food. It took all the men who worked in the shaft nine hours to reach me.

A very large pine-tree that stood near had been the cause of my misfortune. It had been dead a number of years, and the storm had blown it over. The terrible blow it struck the ground had caused the caving in of the shaft. The rabbit had wound the line around a bush and tied himself so short that he was imprisoned outside as securely as I had been inside. He was taken to town, put in a large cage, and supplied with all rabbit delicacies the market afforded. He, however, did not thrive, and the boys, believing he "pined in thought," voted to set him free. He was taken back to his old neighborhood, and liberated. He not only saved my life, but became the benefactor of all the rabbits near, the miners refraining from shooting any, for fear it might be my rabbit.

Lead Poisoning Among Workers.
The report of the United States Public Health Service on this subject is now in press. The danger is chiefly to those handling the glass; the lead is inhaled as dust, the lungs absorb lead from fumes, and there is some absorption through the skin. The use of leadless glasses, already established in European factories, would remedy the trouble, but this requires sweeping changes in our manufacturing and firing methods.—Scientific American.

A Freshman's Viewpoint.
At the close of the first week in an Indianapolis high school, a teacher asked members of a freshman class to write their impressions of their first day at the school.

"I came expecting to recite," wrote one youth, "but was deceived."
"My first impression reminded me of some cartoons, such as 'When a Feller Needs a Friend,' and 'Where Do We Go From Here,'" wrote another, who lacked the self-confidence that the first youth had displayed.

FORCED TO GIVE UP HAREMS

Financial Necessity Really the Mother of Any Turkish Reform in That Direction.

The word "harem" for all its rich connotation, is now simply the name for the women's quarters in the Turkish home. Poverty in the palaces and out of them is more responsible than western ideals for the changed condition there.

Education and the world movement for broadening the freedom of women have, of course, had their influence. The French novel also put a window of a kind in the Turkish harem, and many Turkish men are vigorously protesting the notions of freedom which they have put into the heads of the women.

But necessity, rising out of the long, protracted wars, is the real mother of freedom for Turkish women. The Turkish coffers, both public and private, are too depleted to permit the expensive establishments of the old days. Men are no longer able to maintain women in idleness and war, with its demands on man power, has made woman labor an actual necessity.—Bessie Beatty in the Century Magazine.

The Sunday Picnic.

The late Mrs. George Gould was not narrow-minded but she hated any desecration of the Sabbath. One summer Sunday while motor-ing in Lakewood, she came upon a rich Lakewood family, the Smiths, principal stockholders in the well-known Smith asbestos firm.

The Smith family was picnicking. The father and the three sons in their shirt sleeves were drinking whisky and playing poker, while the daughters and the mother smoked cigarettes and played bridge for high stakes.

"Well," said Mrs. Gould, "I wouldn't have believed that you Smiths had such faith in your as-bestos."

Chemicals From Corn Cobs.

By developing new methods of extracting furfural from corn cobs chemists of the Department of Agriculture have greatly reduced the cost of making this chemical, which is used in the manufacture of soluble and insoluble resins for stains, varnishes, insulating material, printing plates and many other articles. Furfural has been made commercially from oat hulls and has been selling for about 50 cents a pound, but when made from cobs it is estimated that it can be manufactured at a cost of about 10 cents a pound. Cobs give the greatest yield of furfural of any of the common agricultural materials that contain it.—Department of Agriculture Bulletin.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rome, Oct. 27.—Signor Facta, whose cabinet resigned last night under pressure from the Fascists, today invited Deputy Benito Mussolini, parliamentary spokesman for the Fascists, to come to Rome to participate in the formation of a new government. This represented a definite victory for the Fascists, who were threatening civil war unless they were a controlling voice in the new ministry. So far the Socialists and Communists, deadly enemies of the Fascists, have remained passive.

BETTER ROADS

SAFE WIDTH OF HARD ROADS

Bureau of Public Roads Makes Recommendation of 18 Feet to Provide Good Clearance.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A minimum width of 18 feet for hard-surface roads is recommended by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. The maximum width of truck body generally permitted is 8 feet, and 5 1/2 feet is the ordinary clearance

Traffic on a 16-Foot Pavement.

width of automobiles. At an average speed of 30 miles an hour it is unreasonable to expect the driver of an automobile to drive with the wheels closer than 1 1/2 feet to the edge of the pavement, says the bureau. For trucks at an average speed of 15 miles an hour, this distance should not be less than 1 1/2 feet on account of the great width of the rear wheel. "Three feet seems to be a minimum safe clearance between bodies. Inasmuch as a certain amount of truck traffic is to be expected on all main country roads, the minimum width of surface should be 18 feet to provide these clearances when an automobile meets a truck."

Where the frequency with which trucks pass each other becomes a factor, as in the neighborhood of large cities, the minimum width of pavement should be 20 feet to provide a clearance of 3 1/2 feet and a safe distance of wheels from edge of pavement.

GRAVEL FOR ROAD BUILDING

Simple, Portable Apparatus Devised to Test Its Suitability for Highways.

To aid the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, in giving particular attention to the use of local material for road construction wherever possible, a simple portable apparatus has been devised, for testing gravel to determine its suitability for concrete. The device consists of two steel balls arranged so that a piece of gravel can be placed on top of one of the balls and the other ball allowed to fall from different heights and strike the gravel. The height of fall required to break the gravel is an indication of its suitability to withstand the blows of traffic.

Heretofore there has been no satisfactory test of gravel as there has been for stone, with the result that in some instances more costly material has been used when a suitable gravel was available close at hand. Along this line the bureau is conducting wear tests on concrete made of many different materials to determine just how far it is safe to go when the quality of material is doubtful.

MONEY FOR COLORADO ROADS

Secretary Wallace Approves Expenditure of $556,000 for Highways in Forest.

Expenditures totaling $556,000 of national forest highway funds for the construction of 106 miles of roads in Colorado have been approved by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. This money was made available for roads of primary importance to the state, counties or communities within, adjoining or adjacent to the national forests.

GIVE DIRT ROADS ATTENTION

Farmers Enabled to Haul Larger Loads With Less Strain on Horses and Equipment.

Many communities have found it to their advantage to keep their dirt roads smooth by dragging, dividing the work among individuals during different months of the year. In such communities farmers are able to haul heavier loads with less strain on horses, teams and equipment and the saving in the cost of transportation more than pays for the little time each one has spent on the roads.

POULTRY

BETTER PROGENY BY CULLING

Improvement Made in Flock by Getting Rid of All Hens Except Most Prolific Layers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That culling the poultry flock to get rid of all those birds except the vigorous, prolific layers results in noticeable improvement in the progeny is shown by recent investigations at the United States experiment farm, Belts-

Examining a Hen to Find if She is Laying—Measuring Distance Between Pelvic Bones.

ville, Md. The late moulting flocks selected from a flock of 100 Rhode Island Reds in the fall of 1920 laid seven more eggs per bird during their second year than the original flock as pullets. They were used as breeders the following spring, and the first Red pullets to commence laying in the fall of 1921 were found to be the offspring of these late-moulting hens. Their pullets in a period of seven months have already averaged about two dozen eggs per bird more than the original flock.

But it is not alone in number of eggs that the late-moulting progeny excel, but also in the value of the product, as the distribution was more even, a much larger proportion of the eggs being laid during the winter months. In the last seven months the daughters of the late moulting hens not only averaged two dozen eggs per bird more than the original flock, but the value of their product was, figuring at the same prices, about $1.04 per bird more during the same period. It is expected that this margin will increase during the next five months.

FEEDING METHODS FOR EGGS

Methods Adopted by California Community Result in Better Health of Laying Flock.

A mortality of less than 10 per cent for the year among hens entered in the egg-laying contest of Sonoma county, California, last year is reported to the United States Department of Agriculture by local extension workers, who worked out the feeding formula used in the contest. The health record of the hens entered and their laying average of 176 eggs per hen for the 304 days have led many poultrymen to adopt the management and feeding methods used in the contest. It is estimated that 50 per cent of the poultrymen of the county have changed their method of feeding during the last five years, due to extension work influence.

TRADE-MARK ON FRESH EGGS

New Jersey Organization Making Use of Small Sticker on Produce Sold by Members.

A small trade-mark sticker is now put on all eggs sold by members of the North Haledon Leghorn club in Passaic county, N. J. This organization was formed as a result of a meeting of poultrymen of the community with the agricultural extension agent to discuss the development of the poultry industry in that section. Each member pays two cents per bird owned. $4,000 birds being pledged at the first meeting of the club. All members use the trade-mark and guarantee eggs sold under it.

POULTRY NOTES

Water is almost as important as feed in egg production.

A large red comb indicates health and egg production.

Males in pens reduce the total egg yield for the year.

Early maturing pullets usually make good egg producers.

Medium weight hens of any variety are usually most profitable.

Ninety eggs pay cost. The 150-egg hen is worth six 100-egg hens.

Half blue ornament and half hard of tallow makes a good noise maker.

The price of feed does not always disclose its real value in making eggs.

The Old Year and New. Different nations began the year at different times. The Romans started it with March 1, the Macedonians in September, the Aztecs on February 23, the Athenians in June and the Persians on August 11.

Striking New Red Cross Poster

American Red Cross

Chartered by Congress To Relieve and Prevent Suffering In Peace and In War At Home & Abroad

Riveting the attention of the beholder on the fact that the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress as an official volunteer relief organization the dome of the Capitol at Washington, upon which is superimposed a large Red Cross, is the central figure of a new poster for the Annual Red Cross Roll Call. The poster, which has been pronounced one of the most striking of innumerable representations of the famous dome, is the work of Franklin Booth, a New York artist of wide renown. It will be displayed throughout the country during the Roll Call period, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, when the Red Cross membership for 1923 will be enrolled.

Junior Red Cross Praised for Work Influencing Peace

The advancing standard of the Junior American Red Cross made two outstanding gains during the last year—one in the field of domestic activities, which is rapidly linking up the schools with the Junior program; the other a gain of a dozen countries in Europe pledged to organize Juniors on the lines of the American organization. For this accomplishment the American Juniors earned the hearty endorsement of the League of Red Cross Societies for its "creation of an international spirit of human solidarity among young people with a view to the attainment of a new civilization for peace."

The forthcoming annual report of the American Red Cross for the year ended June 30, 1922, will show 21,529 schools enrolled, with a total of 3,482,845 pupils wearing the "Red Cross" badge of unending service earned by each individual member through personal sacrifice.

In international school correspondence 786 classes and schools engaged in friendly communication with 63 schools in European countries, 10 schools in United States territories, 13 in South Africa and 10 in miscellaneous list of foreign countries. The work in foreign fields in establishing playgrounds, school libraries, sewing and manual training classes, homes for war orphans, school reconstruction in devastated areas, encouraging community gardens and many other activities was financed through the National Children's Fund raised by the Juniors at a cost of $338,277.40. During the year $36,922.78 was contributed toward the fund, in which July 1 there was a balance of $201,355.68.

DANGER IN STEEL HORSESHOE

Substitution of Copper, It Is Believed, Will Lessen Possibility of Destructive Forest Fires.

Copper horseshoes as a means of preventing forest fires have recently made their appearance in several of the national forests of the West, and, if the plans of certain forestry officials are carried into effect, this metal will supplant steel upon the hoofs of all horses to be used on public domains where there is any measure of fire hazard.

According to the supervisor of the Angeles National forest, in southern California, steel horseshoes used in flinty mountain regions may have been the cause of some of the mysterious fires that have started in the forest reserves. Heavy steel horseshoes striking against flint or hard granite may readily be the source of sparks, which, falling into dry grass or other inflammable material, would quickly cause it to burst into flames if fanned by a breeze.

The new horseshoes were given their first try-out recently in Calaveras county, California.—Popular Mechanics.

NEW USE FOR SCOTCH LAKES

Long Famed in Song, It Is Now Seriously Proposed to Develop Their Water Power.

Scotland is waking up to the fact that its lakes and waterfalls may be made to serve other purposes than providing scenic attractions for tourists. As proof of this the "Grampian Electricity bill" has been given a second reading in the house of commons.

In this a company is empowered to collect and use the waters of 15 lochs and 99 small lakes, rivers, and streams over an area of 417 square miles.

The waters proposed to be utilized are estimated to be capable of generating 56,000 horse power to supply electricity in the counties of Perth, Kinross, and Forfar, and districts in four other counties. The capital is placed at £4,500,000 ($22,500,000).

That any of the beautiful lakes and falls of "Caledonia stern and wild" should be used to set the wheels of industry spinning, many in Scotland regard almost as sacrilegious desecration. And that opinion is shared by not a few Americans who are accustomed to visit Scotland annually.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

Early Irish Monastery.

The site of one of the earliest Christian monasteries in Ireland has been found at Mahee island, Strangford Lough, near Belfast. The ruins have been identified as those of Neandrum monastery, mentioned in Mulrecha's "Life of St. Patrick," written before 690 A. D.

Extensive excavations have been carried out and valuable material, including some stones with writing, the exact meaning of which has not yet been ascertained, have been unearthed. Some of the writings are believed to be of Danish origin.

METHODISTS HERE ENDORSE MILLER

In Resolution at District Conference
—Request Reappointment of Dr.
Grinton As District Superintendent.

The district conference of the Kingston District, New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in annual session at Saugerties, N. Y., October 24, passed a strong resolution in favor of re-election of Judge Nathan L. Miller as governor. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, Governor Nathan L. Miller has given the state of New York a most efficient and business-like administration and has stood for the enforcement of just laws in the state and nation.

"Therefore, be it resolved that we, the ministers and laymen of the Kingston District of New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, without regard to party, pledge to Governor Miller our heartfelt support in his candidacy for re-election as governor of the state of New York.

Signed,
"THE REV. GEORGE W. GRINTON, D. D.,

President.
"THE REV. D. M. DENNISTON,

Secretary.
The auditorium of the newly-built Methodist Church at Saugerties at forenoon, afternoon and evening sessions was filled to capacity as the carloads from all parts of the district came to participate in the program. Beginning with the love feast conducted by District Superintendent Grinton and ending in the powerful sermon by Bishop Joseph F. Berry, D. D., LL. D., of the Philadelphia Area on "Evangelistic Passion, the Indispensable Need of the Church and the World," the tide of spiritual inspiration and vision ran high. The sermon on spiritual preparedness for power in Christian work, which was given by the Rev. J. S. Ladd Thomas of the First Church, Germantown, Pa., contributed substantially to this end.

The call for money to carry on the great enterprises of world betterment marked the afternoon session. William E. Holloway, general secretary of the Endowment fund was present and reported Hobart Church as alongside of the Grand Gorge Church as up to quota in the campaign for the adequate support of the veteran preachers. Prof. W. J. Thompson in a thrilling appeal for the Methodist Hospital at Brooklyn won a resolution encouraging each local church to make its own response to the call of a growing work of human mercy. John Callahan of Hadley House Hall on the Bowers, and M. L. Robinson of the New York City Society championed the need of the city, which the Rev. Harry Farmer, D. D., of the Board of Foreign Missions and Dr. H. E. Woolever, editor of the Christian Advocate, gave the vision of the spirit and part of the church in world salvation.

The Rev. George W. Grinton, D. D., was given a unanimous and enthusiastic call to be reappointed by Bishop Wilson at the next session of New York Conference as superintendent of Kingston District. The resolution to Bishop Wilson which passed the conference with a rising vote, is as follows.

"The Kingston District Conference held at Saugerties, N. Y., Oct. 24, 1922, respectfully request the reappointment of our district superintendent, the Rev. George W. Grinton, D. D., who has been among us in labors so abundant.

Signed,
"THE REV. D. M. DENNISTON,

Secretary.
The conference gladly accepted the invitation of the Windham Church, the Rev. J. S. Lull, pastor, as the place for the next district conference. It was voted that first place in the churches of the district should be given to the Endowment campaign, in the expectation of complete success, the campaign period being extended to December 1.

Food Packages Gladden Hearts of Children and Aged in Russia

A Russian food remittance may be only a yellow slip of paper to the purchaser in America. Something to be filed away with other ten-dollar receipts—with the paid bills for electric lights, telephone, piano installment, or room rent. But to the one who receives the notification from Moscow that 120 pounds of American flour, cereals, and fats are awaiting his order and will be forwarded, or delivered on call, at any one of twenty-three American Relief Administration food remittance stations in Russia, this slip of paper becomes a document of inestimable worth.

By means of its magic power brothers and sisters can be held together, children restored to strength, young people enabled to remain in school, mothers can regain courage, and grandparents need no longer feel that they are a burden in the home. Bright, growing children, like this affectionate brother and sister of Alexandrovsk in the Ukraine, have blossomed into health and hope as the result of this American-sent food. Old men, like this aged moujik of north Russia, have had hearts gladdened because the son or daughter in the New World did not forget.

The Food Remittance plan which proved so successful in Central and Eastern Europe in 1920-1921 has been a major godsend to Russia. Any person or organization may purchase a Food Remittance for ten dollars and specify to whom the food shall be delivered in Russia. In many cases Food Remittances have been the means of restoring communication between relatives separated for six or eight years by the war and its resultant migrations.

The magnitude of this business flowing from the hearts and purses of America to the empty larders of Russian homes is almost unbelievable. It is measured only by the gratitude of the families that have been blessed. From January 1 to October 1 the Food Remittance Department of the American Relief Administration, 42 Broadway, New York City, announced sales totaling $2,094,870, which conducted a feeding program reaching 10,500,000 persons each day until the harvest came in. The A. R. A. will continue the feeding of 1,500,000 children in Russia in order to help wipe out the effects of famine's aftermath this winter. The Food Remittance deliveries will be continued to aid the many adult sufferers. Gifts to individuals or general relief through these remittances will be received at the New York headquarters.

CLEAN ATHLETICS IS K. H. S. SLOGAN

Local High School Athletic Officials
Reply To Article on "Get" Cohen
Printed by Newburgh Paper.

October 26, 1922.

City Editor Newburgh Daily News,
Newburgh, New York.

Dear Sir:

It is possible will you kindly print this reply to an article printed in your paper on October 25, 1922, entitled
"Kingston Shows Very Poor Spirit."

We sincerely regret the appearance of the article because it does not help to promote the spirit of good sportsmanship between our school and Newburgh Academy which the officials of both schools are expanding every effort to promote.

The coaches of our school are always notified at the beginning of the season that under no circumstances will any "dirty work" be tolerated
from the members of the Kingston team. So far as we and the officials of the game know, we can honestly say that this order was obeyed last Saturday by the individual players of our team.

That the Newburgh coach had the same desire to see a good clean game was evidenced by the fact that before the game expressed the wish that there be no trouble whatever between the two teams.

However, in direct reply to the article mentioned above, we would say that we cannot agree in any way with the definition of the word "get"
as advanced by your correspondent.
"Get" as we understand it at Kingston High School, used as a football term, means to watch a man closely in each and every play that is made so that he as an individual will not in any way interfere with what opportunities we have to win the game; and we have never in the history of our school applied it as your correspondent did in the article under discussion.

In regard to the poster which appeared in this discussion, we would say that in the first place the original did not bear the words "Go get"
but they were inserted with the name of some person who had no right to do so, and was not present to the attention of any of the athletic officials or to the members of the team. The words which appeared on the poster by the designer were: "Barnum's White Elephant Has Nothing on You" and
"Go to it."

We hope that this explanation will demonstrate conclusively that Kingston High School is out for clean sportsmanship.

Very truly yours,
EARLE McLANE,
President A. A.
KENNETH E. DAVIS,
Captain of Football Team.
C. W. HERMAN,
Coach of Football Team.

PEOPLE TODAY ARE BETTER FED THAN WERE ANCIENTS

So Declares Italian Investigator
Who Has Been Making
Study of Foods.

When all the world is complaining of what it costs to buy a good dinner,
as compared to the days before the war, an Italian investigator has come forward with the statement that never before have the people been as well fed as at present.

Signor Pedrazzoli has analyzed the descriptions, in old writings, of the hundred-course banquets of the Middle Ages, and the recitals of whole cows prepared for the feasters. He finds undoubted exaggeration, and says that when such things did happen so many people sat down to the meal that each individual portion was very small. Such dinners also were given only in years of plenty, but more numerous than these were the lean years. Then the people were thin and pale, and at this time originated the expression, "Tighten up your belt."

The Seventeenth century was the golden age for food. During these years potatoes, tea, chocolate and coffee were introduced into Europe.
Rome claims to be the birthplace of "Cafe au lait." Ambulant Greeks used to sell coffee from buckets in the streets of Rome.

The Romans immediately used this for mixing with milk, and so popular proved the drink that it soon spread to the whole world. The first coffeehouse to be opened in Rome was, in fact, called "Il cafe greco," and it may still be seen in the picturesque Via Condotti.

An idea of how bad was the food
in Middle Ages may be had from the writings of Tassoni, in whose verse various menus are described. When the food was not of poor quality in itself, the predominant note in its preparation was not with regard to taste, but to display. Spices also were very much in evidence, and the dishes often were so highly seasoned as to be neither wholesome nor agreeable.
Signor Pedrazzoli prepared a dish according to an old recipe, but the result was impossible. No one could eat it, and it was medically unwholesome.

BELL CALLS PRESIDENT'S GARDENERS TO DAILY TASK

In the heart of Washington hangs this old-fashioned bell, not unlike the one that used to hang from the "little red school house." It is located in the "Propagating Gardens," where all the flowers and plants for the White House and White House gardens are grown. The men employed there are known as the President's own gardeners. The bell, which hangs from the administration building, is rung at 7:30
a. m., 12 m., 12:30 p. m. and 4 p. m., by James A. Watts, who has held the post of official bell ringer for 12 years. The bell originally hung in the State, War and Navy building.

SWALLOW TRAVELS FAR

Birds Ringed in England Are Found in South Africa.

The sixth swallow ringed and released in England to be ultimately recaptured in South Africa has been reported to Mr. H. F. Witherby, ornitho-logist and student of bird migration.

The swallow in question was ringed
as a nestling near Windsor, Berkshire, on August 20, 1921. On January 8, 1922, the bird was caught by Mr. Erbert Greef in the kitchen window of his house at Brindon, Jansenville, in the Cape Province.

The journeys made by the five others which have been recaptured were from Staffordshire to Natal, Ayrshire to the Orange Free State, Lancashire to Cape Provincie, Yorkshire to East Griqualand and Stirlingshire to the Transvaal.

Mr. Witherby's ringing scheme embraces also starlings and various other birds.

That Word "Saffron."

The word "saffron" comes into the English dictionary from the Arabic.
The Arabs use the word "saffran" to designate a species of crocus with light purple flowers which develop in autumn. The plant grows in parts of Asia and in the south of Europe.—Mil-

Make the whiteness test without boiling—Monday

—white as when bought

On Monday we want you to join the thousands of women who have made the famous whiteness test.

We want you to see as they have seen
—how snowy white clothes can be, even without any help from boiling, scalding or hard rubbing. We want you to see how it lightens the work and improves
the results of one of your hardest weekly tasks.

But remember: Don't boil, for that is part of the whiteness test. Next Monday wash as you have always done, (except for boiling). Wash with P and G The White Naphtha Soap, and you will have a real test of this unique soap's own ability to keep clothes white.

When the wash is done, just see how white your clothes are.

Any Method for P and G

This whiteness test of P and G is a revelation. While it is made without boiling, it is not for the purpose of inducing you to give up boiling unless you wish, but to show how white P and G leaves clothes—
even without boiling.

This is the soap for snowy white results,
whatever washing method you use.

Thousands of P and G users who delight in white clothes don't boil. Whether you boil your clothes is, of course, a matter of preference.

And the Colored Clothes

Remember P and G is equally safe for colors

Handle your colored clothes exactly as you handle the rest—no special treatment of this large and important part of the wash. The colored clothes will be beautifully clean—the colors will stay bright as before.

It is not surprising that Procter &
Gamble have seen P and G The White Naphtha Soap grow from nothing at all to the largest selling laundry soap in America.

From Layman To Ministry.

A young country minister, noted

chicken enters the ministry."

"Hope it does better there than it did in lay work," rejoined the bright

BROKEN NECK OF DIVER IS CURED BY SURGICAL DEVICE

Surgeons Rig Up Apparatus to Stretch Diver's Neck Back Into Place.

Chicago.—While swimming in the lake at Oak street bathing beach some time ago Basil Wallace, twenty-four years old, a printer, dived off a pier
and broke his neck when he struck his head against the bottom. Today
he sits in his room in the Polyclinic hospital practically recovered and soon will be discharged as cured.

That he is not dead, it is said, is because of prompt action on the part of physicians in the hospital in rigging up an apparatus to stretch his neck back into place and relieve a state of paralysis that threatened to kill the nerves throughout the body.

Wallace was removed to the hospital by police immediately following the accident. X-ray examination revealed that the second, third and fourth vertebrae of the spinal column had been fractured and thrown out of line. Pressure on the spinal cord as a result of this threatened to paralyze
his body.

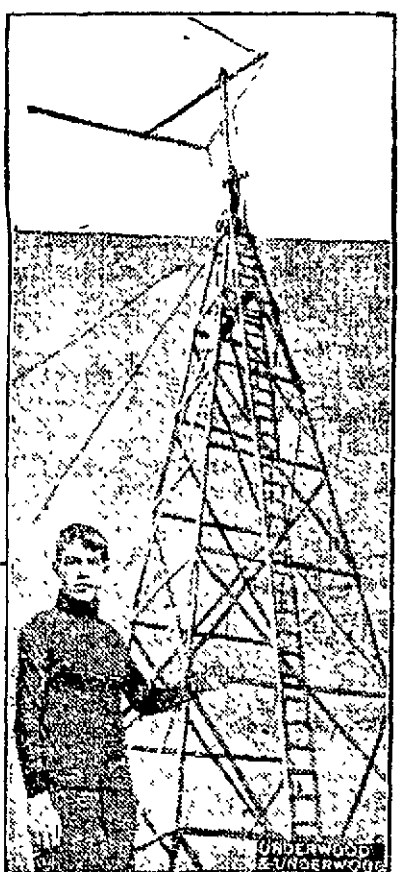

Drs. Irving Perill and B. L. T.
Woods, physicians at the hospital,
took the patient in hand and decided on an immediate plan to stretch the man's neck back into a normal position and relieve the pressure.

Wallace was placed in a specially constructed bed, where he lay with his head supported by two pillars in an angular position. The doctors then placed a strap around his head, under the chin, and fastened it securely. A rope was tied to the strap and thrown over the head of the bed.

A sack filled with sand and weighing ten pounds was tied to the rope and allowed to hang down, thereby throwing the weight on the rope and pulling the man's head away from his body. Wallace was forced to stay in this position for two weeks. During that time the paralysis disappeared
and the straps were removed.

The other day the man sat up in bed and told his experiences to a number of physicians who have become interested in the case, regarded by many as an innovation in surgery.

FIFTEEN-YEAR OLD BOY BUILDS BIG RADIO SET

At the left Peter Black, Jr., of Prince Rupert, B. C., stands beside the base of his radio aerial tower—
at the right, he poses at the top of the 120-foot wooden structure to show his nerve.

The tower, which the fifteen-year-old boy built himself stands upon the roof of his father's hotel in British Columbia. So powerful is his set that he frequently hears Honolulu, while listening in to Seattle—500 miles away—or even to San Francisco, 1,300 miles away, is his regular evening diversion.

The boy has been a radio fan since the age of six and the building of the tower as well as every detail of installation is all his own.

He also built an airplane recently
—but his father will not let him fly
it—yet.

GOLF STICK KILLS TEACHER

Racine Woman Gets in Way as Attorney Swings for Drive.

Miss Evelyn Calman, Depere, Wis.,
a teacher in the Racine public schools,
is dead as the result of an accidental blow delivered with a golf stick by Allan Simpson, assistant district attorney of this county, while he was demonstrating the science of driving a golf ball on the lawn of a South
Main street home.

Simpson was showing the stroke to a number of feminine devotees of the game, when Miss Calman, who was sitting on the porch of the residence, stepped down behind him just as he lifted the driver in its backward arc over his shoulder. The club struck the young woman just back of the ear.
She fell to the ground and, despite the efforts of physicians, died some fifteen minutes later.

Only Way to Escape From Past.

Oh, there are some who want to get away from all their past; who, if they could, would fain begin all over again.
But you must learn, you must let God teach you, that the only way to get rid of your past is to get a future out of it.—Phillips Brooks.

MILK PRODUCERS' ANNUAL MEETING

At Springfield, Mass., on November 10 will occur the annual meeting of the National Milk Producers' Federation, an event of great interest to dairymen. The Dairymen's League cooperative Association is the largest of the 20 member associations of the federation.

The first day of the meeting will be given up to addresses on the innumerable problems surrounding the marketing of milk, such as transportation, freight rates, rural credit, farm problems at home and abroad, future activities of milk marketing organizations, modern means of increasing the consumption of dairy products, methods of marketing milk in the vicinity of great cities, relations between prices of milk and prices of milk by-products, and national legislation affecting the dairy industry.

Discussion of pooling problems will be the main feature of the second day. Most milk marketing associations are based on some variation of the pooling plan.

Donald G. Mitchell. "Everybody who has gained experience has observed that most persons—authors included—are disturbers of peace. The human being who tranquillizes his fellow-creatures is rare. Mitchell, from the first, allured his readers with gentleness, and made them calm. Washington Irving spoke of having been drawn toward Mitchell by the qualities of head and heart in his writings, but he did not name them. Perhaps he would have mentioned, first of all, that quality of grace which diffuses peace—that blending of dignity and sweetness which is at once the sign and the allurement of natural distinction. Mitchell is a writer who never stands in front of his subject, and who never asks attention to himself. Washington Irving had the same characteristic, and it was natural that they should be drawn together."—William Winter.

Early Days of Golf in England. Garrick was the first English actor to play golf. "Jupiter" Carlyle relates in his autobiography that in the summer of 1779 Garrick asked him and John Home, the author of "Douglas," to spend a day at Hampton, and bring golf clubs and balls in order to teach him the game. Garrick thoroughly enjoyed his foursome, and when it was over entertained his guests to a sumptuous dinner. On taking leave of his host Carlyle presented him with one of his clubs. To show how rare golf was then played south of the Tweed, Carlyle mentions that as they drove through Kensington on the way to Hampton some Scottish soldiers, "seeing our clubs, gave three cheers in honor of a diversion peculiar to Scotland."

Power of Birds' Songs. A crow which is scarcely more than the thousandth part the size of an ox, may be heard as far and further than the lustiest ox, and the nightingale which a man could easily hold in his hand can fill a wider space with its music than the human voice. No woman can send her notes farther and stronger than the flicker or golden-winged woodpecker, which is only about a foot long from bill to tip of tail. What would befall this world if it developed a man with a voice comparable as to his size with that of a canary; who could say? A steam callopo, or organ made of steam factory whistles would be no fair comparison with the noise he would make.

Wrapping Foil. Fine wrapping foil is made of tin put through a roller process. It may be cut into spool lengths, into sheets or stamped out into shapes of various kinds. Of lower grades are numerous kinds of composition metal. Some of the heavy foil runs one-eighth of an inch in thickness. This is really a lead foil. The heavier foils have numerous industrial uses, being used as condensers in automobiles, in making detonating caps and largely in the printing and electrical trades. Edison wrapped the cylinder on which he was making one of the earliest phonograph records in a sheet of the same substance.

Mountain Climbing as a Sport. Climbing satisfies many needs; the love of the beautiful in nature; the desire to exert oneself physically, which with strong men is passionate craving that must find satisfaction somehow or other; the joy of conquest without any woe to the conquered; the prospect of continual increase in one's skill. The mountaineer does not reap any golden harvest by his exertions—even if he writes a book on his subject. He does not exhibit his skill to applauding thousands; and his vanity is rarely tickled by the praise of many. He must be content with the sport itself and what it offers him directly.—Owen Glynn Jones.

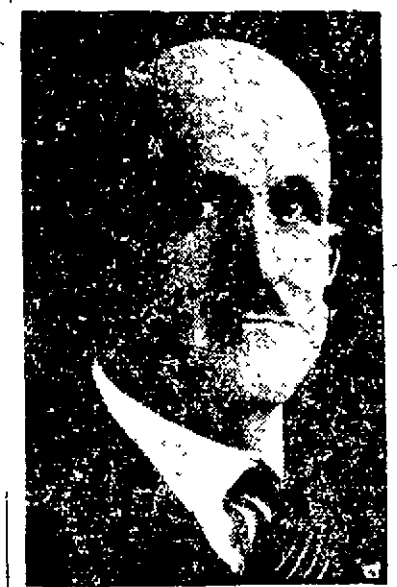

This Bird Is Fat. Young albatrosses are so laden with their own fat that one of them may go five months without taking any nourishment, says the American Forestry Magazine. This is likewise true of young penguins and other sea fowl.

"No one in this family shall lay his head on a gray-white pillow case again."

BOUTON AN HONOR TO THE DISTRICT

Republican Candidate For State Senator An Earnest Worker At The Bar And In Interests of Agriculture—Politics A Secondary Matter.

ARTHUR J. BOUTON.

Although active in public affairs of the Twenty-ninth Senatorial district for many years, Arthur F. Bouton never has been a candidate for office outside of his native town of Roxbury, Delaware county, until this year when he was unanimously nominated by the Republican party for senator.

The range of Mr. Bouton's activities is very large, and for a number of years he has been a frequent visitor in Kingston, either on legal matters on behalf of his clients, or matters connected with the Delaware County Farm and Home Bureau, or in connection with numerous other business and fraternal matters.

Mr. Bouton was born in Roxbury, July 1, 1872, and always has remained a resident of the village. His early education was received in the common schools and completed at the Albany Law School, from which he was graduated in 1897. He was admitted to the bar July 6, 1897, and has been in the active practice of his profession ever since. He always has been a hard worker and his activities have brought him in close contact with the people of every section of the Twenty-ninth Senatorial district.

When twenty-one years old, just after having cast his first vote, Mr. Bouton was elected town clerk of the town of Roxbury, and was re-elected the following year. When the Delaware County Farm and Home Bureau was organized, Mr. Bouton became one of its most active members and has been indefatigable in all efforts for its welfare. He was interested in the development of the New York State Agricultural School at Delhi, and so naturally was selected by Governor Charles S. Whitman as one of the board of trustees of that school. Governor Miller reappointed him at the expiration of his term and he is now serving as trustee. Mr. Bouton thoroughly understands the important agricultural and dairying as well as the business interests of the district from actual experience with and study of them.

Fraternally, Mr. Bouton has been highly honored by the organizations with which he is affiliated. He became a member of the Odd Fellows when twenty-one years old and is a past grand of Roxbury Lodge, No. 608 of Roxbury; past chief patriarch of Grand Corps Encampment; past district deputy grand master and past grand marshal of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of the State of New York. Since he was a young man he has been a member of the Masonic fraternity, his membership including Corner de Lion Lodge, No. 571, of Roxbury, of which he is a past master; Delta Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Stamford; Ancient City Masons of Stamford; Ancient City Council, Royal and Select Masters of Kingston; Roundout Commandery, No. 22, Knights Templar of Kingston; and Cyprus Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of Albany; in addition to which he has served as district deputy grand master of Masons of the Delaware Sullivan county district.

In addition to his law practice and agricultural activities, Mr. Bouton is president of the National Bank of Roxbury, and secretary and treasurer of the Golden Seal Assurance Society, which is engaged in life, health and accident insurance. The Bouton family has been closely identified with Delaware county for many generations. The family is of French-Huguenot extraction, and after leaving France settled in England, whence John Bouton, the ancestor who came to America with the Puritans. The family later removed from Massachusetts to Connecticut, and about the time of the Revolutionary War removed to Delaware county, of which they were among the pioneer settlers.

Homer Wrote of Lotus Eaters. A race of people, known as the lotus eaters, mentioned in Homer's Odyssey as dwelling on the northeast coast of Africa, and visited by Ulysses in his wanderings after the fall of Troy, lived on the fruit of a plant called the lotus, the taste of which was so delightful as to cause utter forgetfulness of home on the part of those that partook of it. In historic times the Greeks gave this name to a people that dwelt on the northern coast of Africa, between the Syrtis and used as an article of food a plant supposed to be identical with the lotus of Homer.

Flight of Ducks. The Americana says that: "All ducks are very strong and swift on the wing, and many of them make semi-annual migrations between the tropic and the shore of the Arctic ocean, and their flight is known to attain a speed of 100 miles an hour for short distances in the case of certain species."

NEW-YORK'S AGE IS IN QUESTION

Celebration of the 300th Anniversary Is Involved.

OLD LETTER COMES TO LIGHT

Strengthens Claim That Observance of Anniversary of Founding of New Amsterdam, Now New York, Should Be in 1928, Rather Than in 1924, as Tentative Plans Announced—Quaint Description of Place Where 6,000, 000 Now Live.

Out of the archives of 300 years ago Hollanders have brought to light a letter with which the Netherlands chamber of commerce strengthens a claim that the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of New Amsterdam, now New York, should be in 1928, rather than in 1924, as tentative plans announced.

Here is the letter, with its quaint and brief description of the spot where now 6,000,000 persons live; where the assessed valuation is $6,000,000,000, or $250,000 an acre; where the exports are 100,000 times those of the year of its founding:

Recep. 7 November, 1628. High and Mighty Sirs:—Here arrived yesterday the ship The Arms of Amsterdam, which sailed from New Nederland out of the Mauritius river (the Hudson) on September 23; they report that our people there are healthy and live peaceably. Their women also have borne children there.

Tells of Buying Manhattan. "They have bought the island Manhattan from the wild men for the value of 60 guilders, is 11,000 morgens in extent. They sowed all their grain in the middle of May and harvested it in the middle of August. Thereof being samples of summer grain, such as wheat, rye, oats, buckwheat, canary seed, small beans and flax.

"The cargo of the aforesaid ship is: Seven thousand two hundred and forty-six beaver skins, 1784 otter skins, 674 otter skins, forty-eight mink skins, thirty-six cat skins, thirty-three mink skins, thirty-four rat skins, and many logs of oak and nut wood.

"Herewith, High and Mighty Sirs, he re commended to the Almighty's Grace.

"In Amsterdam, Nov. 5, Anno 1628. Your High Mightinesses' Obedient, "P. SCHAGEN."

The 60 guilders mentioned, at the present rate of exchange, amount to the $24 price of Manhattan known to every schoolboy; the "Mauritius river" is the Hudson river, from whose waters, by the way, a giant air cruiser recently took flight for Brazil—the glorified descendant, 300 years apart, of the little ship that carried "otter skins, rat skins, and many logs of oak and nut wood."

RECORD INSURANCE POLICY

Pennsylvania Treasurer Gets $26,000, 000 Against Burglary.

A $26,000,000 burglary insurance policy, covering securities for which the state treasurer of Pennsylvania is responsible, was executed the other day by the National Surety company and twenty-five co-insuring companies. This is the largest burglary insurance policy ever written. The protection afforded by the policy will run three years. Premiums will total more than $32,000 for the three years.

J. A. Algire, vice-president of the National Surety company, explained that, while it was unusual for a state to take out a burglary policy of anything like such proportions, the development indicated a general tendency in that direction. The National Surety company recently executed such a policy for the state of Kentucky for $4,000,000, Mr. Algire said.

"A state is subject to the same hazard as a bank or any other institution," he continued. "It is essential for the state to arrange for some sort of protection for securities on hand or for state moneys, and the state of Pennsylvania is insuring itself against the theft of various securities held in custody by the treasurer."

EASY TO FLY TO POLE

Expert Says Airships of German Type Could Make the Trip.

Modern airships of the German type could make the trip from London to the North Pole, a distance of 4,600 miles, within a week, says Maj. Richard Carr, aerial expert of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition. Fuel for the entire distance could be carried, and no landings need be made.

Major Carr made important observations on flying conditions in the Antarctic. "During the seven weeks we were in the ice," he says, "the lowest temperature recorded was 5 degrees Fahrenheit and the average approximately 20 degrees. The wind average was eight to ten miles an hour, and the air and sky were wonderfully clear. We had more than 300 perfect flying hours."

A Noodle Seed.

During cherry season, Bobby had been cautioned repeatedly about swallowing the seeds. One day, at dinner, noodles were served. Little Bobby came upon a tiny piece of bone from the broth, and yelled in astonishment: "Why, mother, here's a noodle seed!"

Oh Boy! Here's a Battery that Fits the Pocketbook

We used to know a chap who wore two-dollar shoes, fifteen-dollar suits, a dollar watch and threw his socks away instead of sending them to the mending basket. Said he'd a heap rather pay less and buy oftener.

If he was around here now he'd grab a CW Battery (Wood Separator) and have it on his car quicker 'n scat! We've seen lots of batteries—but never one with-in gunshot of the CW Battery (Wood Separator), for quality at anything like the price!

Birds and Animals Exterminated.

Louis Agassiz Fuertes, the well-known naturalist, says that about fifty species of birds and animals have been exterminated in the United States, while several others are on the verge of extermination. The buffalo (or bison) is not extinct, there being nearly 70,000 living buffaloes in the United States today.

K. H. S. TEAMS SET FOR CONTESTS

Varsity Plays Saratoga Springs Saturday at 2:30 At The Athletic Field—Seconds Play At Middletown.

Saturday Kingston High School will be a contender in two football contests. The Varsity plays Saratoga Springs here and the seconds go to Middletown to engage the latter school. The seconds of the two schools have met twice this season, and both games have resulted in scoreless ties. Our scrubs have been playing excellent football, giving the Varsity no little trouble in the scrimmage the past week. The Varsity is still improving, and their form of playing makes local fans who have seen them practice this week very optimistic. There are, however, several weak spots which must be patched up before the game tomorrow, but they are minor, and there is no doubt that they will be eliminated in today's practice. As stated in Wednesday night's Freeman, Captain Davis will probably be sent of tomorrow's game. There will be a good backfield, however, although the loss of Davis will be felt. Faulk and Leverett are playing a good game. Herbert Anderson has been playing in the backfield this week, Messinger taking his place on end, and this combination worked very well. The work of Vogt, Souers and Colvin in the backfield need not be commented upon, as they were in the lineup last week, and the fans could see that they know their business. Kenneth Davenport has also won the admiration of those who have seen the team practice this week. So, it can be seen that there need be no anxiety about having someone to substitute for Davis.

The Saratoga game should prove very interesting. Two years ago, when Jack Hall was coach of the locals, Kingston, triumphed Saratoga here 6-12. Last year Kingston traveled to Saratoga and lost a game played in the rain by the score 6-0. Saratoga usually has a good team, and they are known for playing a clean brand of football, so an honest, hard contest can be looked forward to. The game will be played on the Athletic Field and will begin at two-thirty.

WHY MOTORISTS SHOULD JOIN CLUB

Secretary Meinhardt Urges Larger Membership in Automobile Club of Ulster County and Gives Reasons Therefor.

To the Editor of The Freeman.

Sir:—With a registration of over 11,000 in Ulster county, and only 500 members in the Automobile Club of Ulster county heretofore doing efficient work the time has come when to continue this effectiveness we need more members. If the Ulster county owners would take more interest by joining the club and thereby using their influence the Automobile Club of Ulster county would not only continue to be one of the best clubs in the state association but it would be the best. You are doing yourself a favor by joining the club. Adverse legislation is harder to fight each year. The organized clubs ask the legislators to favor or oppose legislation and when we say 500 members out of 11,000, they answer us that the majority are satisfied to pay more, to have this restriction on their operating an automobile or they would protest either direct or by joining your club, can you protect yourself easier than by joining a live club that looks after your interests. As a special inducement, the club is offering memberships from the present time to January 1, 1924, for the $5 membership dues. Those joining the club now will receive the year's emblem while they last, a new one for 1923 and the best road guide—the Scarborough—over published in New York, New Jersey, Canada and the east—additions for 1922, several pages of main trunk lines south and west, together with between 70 and 80 pages of maps, making one of the most complete touring guides ever published. Motorists giving you all the important automobile news aside from the benefits of the club which saves you many times your dues, you are actually getting back in value more than the $5 dues. Remember this, the club helps you. Unless you want to pay more to run your automobile next year better join now.

H. F. MEINHARDT,
Secretary Automobile Club of Ulster County.

EARLY ADVANCE IN TIRE PRICES IS PREDICTED.

An advance in tire prices is imminent, according to leading rubber company executives, says the Wall Street Journal. Prices are the lowest in history, more than 40 per cent below 1920 peak levels and above 28 per cent below 1921 top.

Since the August reduction, averaging 10 per cent on cords and 15 per cent on fabric casings, margin of profit has been unsatisfactory, especially for the larger companies. Smaller tire producers for some time have been in more advantageous position than their larger competitors. This has been due principally to the fact that they had comparatively small inventory losses to take. Selling expenses have also been lighter.

Recent advance of nearly ten cents a pound in crude rubber together with a stiffening cotton fabric market has made the general situation worse. Few tire companies have been carrying heavy stocks or made extensive future commitments at earlier low prices. In fact, part of the recent rapid advance in crude rubber is attributed to urgent buying by some large tire companies in immediate need of rubber.

Officials of some important companies are debating the wisdom of an early advance in tire prices. They believe rising raw material costs justify an increase, but wonder if greater benefits may not eventually accrue if they keep prices down. Such action, in the face of advancing costs, they think, will make it difficult for many so-called "cayp" manufacturers to continue in business.

These "cayps" and a number of highly regarded independent manufacturers have made heavy inroads on the business of the large companies in the past few years. Prior to the war two companies controlled 80 per cent of tire replacement sales while today they do less than 50 per cent.

Many of the small producers, however, have established themselves quite solidly and it will not be easy to dislodge them. It appears likely that large manufacturers will bend their efforts toward recouping the losses of the past two years and thereby strengthen their own financial positions before embarking upon a competitive campaign which, if undertaken, is bound to prove costly. An advance in tire prices, appears to be the next logical step.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

ALICE ALLIGATOR

"Yes, it is true," said Alice, the Alligator in the zoo, "I am, lazy. But why should I be anything else? Neighbor Crocodile feels the same way as do I."

"How foolish it would be if I rushed about trying to be so very busy. There would be no point in building up a large alligator business for myself."

"The things alligators are useful for are their skins which are used for bags and music cases and so forth. We wouldn't want to sell these things ourselves. It wouldn't be just nice."

"Of course an alligator has been known to eat little alligators, but it wouldn't do to have a business of alligator skins."

"It would sound in very bad taste to say: 'Come and buy a nice bag today. It is Cousin Alta Alligator's best and his skin you will be having.'"

"No, that wouldn't sound well at all. And so I shall not go into business. Great wealth wouldn't interest me as well-fed here. I only care for food and sleep."

"What would I do with lots of money? I couldn't rush to the bank."

"What Would I Do?"

and put it in which is what some people do with their money. Oh yes, they seem to get a great deal of happiness being it pile up and up."

"There are no banks for alligators where alligators can put their money. Of course there are the banks where alligators can lie down and rest and sleep and dream, but they're entirely different."

"It wouldn't interest me to have lots of money to spend. I wouldn't care to buy an automobile or go to a County Fair and buy lots of candy and popcorn and have my untidy taken the way I've heard children at the zoo say they've been doing lately."

"No, money has no interest for me. And so I will not work to make money. Neither will I work for the joy of working, for to me there is no joy in working."

"I hope everyone knows the difference between an alligator and a crocodile."

"An alligator has a flat head while the head of a crocodile is triangular in shape or three-cornered, as I'd say in more simple fashion."

"We lie about in the sunbline in the zoo and we let the people watch us. We don't bother to look our best for them—we just flop about in any old fashion and pay no attention to them."

"They want to see us we do not mind, but we don't let them think that it matters us, for it doesn't."

"That's a fine sentence! Only an alligator could say anything as foolish and not be ashamed."

"Now the monkeys are very clever. At five o'clock their keeper always brings them some water and a little meal—a banana or so, perhaps."

"They always know when it is about five o'clock, and you can hear them chattering about their coming meal."

"Their keeper talks of how bright they are. He doesn't think so much of us."

"He is very fond of his coat-mundi, or anti-bear, too. Fat is his name and he looks something like a raccoon. The keeper dances with him and they dance about holding hands as a grown-up will dance with a child."

"How do I know how a grown-up dances with a child? I saw one dancing with a child once. Yes, I did. It was in my Southern home."

"The camels in the zoo are looking better. Their new hair which was very thin at first as it was growing under the old hair is now pretty nice."

"If you're interested in big teeth I should think you'd think that camels also had good-sized teeth."

"The baby bison and her mother and father were all lying in the sun at the corner of their yard not long ago when they saw a lot of people down at the outside end of their yard."

"And they were all so obliging that they got right up and marched down so they could be properly seen. You don't find an alligator doing that."

"No, there's nothing very friendly about an alligator."

"Bobby's Wish."

"Oh, dear!" grumbled Bobby when ordered to get busy with the soap, "I just wish I was a clock."

"Why do you wish that?" his mother asked.

"Cause I wouldn't have to wash my face and hands then," explained the youngster.

GOOD EVERY-DAY DESSERTS

Baked apples are a favorite with most people, but we all tire of having them served the same way. Core them and use a few raisins and nuts with a little brown sugar. Again fill with dates, and sweeten with maple sugar; another time stuff with brown sugar, marshmallow and nuts. A variety may be easily found with the things common in every home.

Old-fashioned gingerbread, which we all like may be made in a most delightful dessert by serving it with a marshmallow sauce which has been flavored with a few tablespoonfuls of good, well-flavored apple sauce.

When making the next jelly roll fill with a chocolate filling instead of jelly, and note how well the family likes the change.

Chocolate Filling—Scald one-half cupful of milk, with one and one-fourth tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and four tablespoonfuls of sugar mixed. Cook until thick and the starchy flavor has disappeared, add a pinch of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of vanilla and a tablespoonful of melted chocolate. Cook all together, then pour over a well-beaten egg, adding the flavoring when cool.

Marshmallow Gingerbread.—Sift one and one-half cupfuls of flour, with one-half teaspoonful each of ginger, cinnamon and salt, one teaspoonful of soda, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of cocoa, one-third of a cupful of melted fat, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of molasses, one egg, one-half cupful of sour milk and one and one-half cupfuls of marshmallows. Sift the flour and dry ingredients together. Cream the fat with the sugar, add molasses, egg, and sour milk. Add the dry ingredients, bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes. Remove from the oven and cut open through the center. Spread the lower half with marshmallows cut in fine pieces and cover with the upper half. Cut in squares, arrange on plates, and serve while warm with whipped cream.

"He is very fond of his coat-mundi, or anti-bear, too. Fat is his name and he looks something like a raccoon. The keeper dances with him and they dance about holding hands as a grown-up will dance with a child."

"How do I know how a grown-up dances with a child? I saw one dancing with a child once. Yes, I did. It was in my Southern home."

Patients tell you a great deal about their livers, but physicians know little about them and in fact the liver is seldom diseased. People are always telling us they have a "torpid liver." I used to be quite eager to know what that was, but I have still to remain ignorant about it. Or people tell us they are "bilious," which again they refer to their liver; when we dig out what they mean it never has anything to do with the liver. So far as I know "biliousness" means constipation and
"torpid liver" means the same thing.

I have been most impressed with that vast something, stretching out on its unbounded scale, unconfined, which there is in these prairies, combining the real and the ideal, and beautiful people of this continental inland West know how much of first-class art they have in these prairies—how original and all your own—how much of the influence for character, for your fu-

Find a man whose words paint you a likeness, you have found a man worth something; mark his manner of doing it as very characteristic of him.
In the first place, he could not have discerned the object at all, or seen the vital type of it, unless he had what we may call, sympathized with it—had sympathy in him to bestow on objects. It is his faculty, that he discerns the true likeness, not the false, superficial one of the thing he has got to work in. And how much of mortality is in the kind of insight we get of anything! the eye seeing in all things "what it brought with it the faculty of seeing."—Cecilye.
Chew Food Thoroughly.
A point which counts much for economy whether living at home or at restaurants is a rather funny one, you may say. I have not heard it mentioned often, writes Nellie Kelson in Thrift. People usually laugh about less. That is that most people—not just the average person—but most people, do not chew their food sufficiently to get the full nutrient value from it. If food were chewed three or four times as long as it usually is, we would not eat more than half as much of it, as we do. Think of cutting your meat bill right in two!
And feeling better for it!

STUDENTS TO PRESENT PLAYS

Ever since the regular gym work
was started in the local high school,
there has been felt the need of more equipment. The work has been more or less of a drudgery, because no change in the work was possible since there was this lack of equipment with which to work. In addition to the lack of proper equipment to make the gym work enjoyable, there is the lack of proper equipment to make playing basketball safe. There have been several accidents due to the unpadded wall. Like the dangerous Broadway crossing, nothing has been done to protect these walls because of the expense. Recognizing the fact that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, the high school has decided that it is now time this condition was eliminated. In order to raise the necessary funds to provide this equipment, the students are giving an entertainment on November 3,
at 8:15, to consist of two plays and a pantomime.

The two plays are "Allison's Lad,"
a drama by Beulah Marie Dix, and
"Joint Owners in Spain," a comedy by Alice Brown. The first is a story of the fourteenth century. The plot centers around the capture and imprisonment of five men. They are held with the understanding that if any break the parole, one member of the band must suffer the death penalty for it. Later it is discovered that three of the men have broken their parole. Any more information would spoil the story. It is safe to say, however, that there is an unexpected ending. The other play is a story with its setting an old ladies' home. Nothing further need be said about this play as nearly everyone knows what to expect of a gathering of old ladies. It is unnecessary also to tell those familiar with the productions with high school talent that those taking part have mastered their roles. The pantomime will consist of several character dances.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Varsity Letter Club or at the high school.

Tells of Green Fields of Arctic.
It is the absence of glaciers which makes the difference between the North and South poles, and gives the Arctic the "friendly" disposition towards man which Mr. Stefansson has divulged in his book, "The Friendly Arctic." "If you travel seven or eight hundred miles overland from the glacier-infested South coast northward,
you come to the prairies bordering the Alaska North coast," says Mr. Stefaus-son. "On the great triangular coastal plain of 50,000 square miles there are no mountains, consequently no glaciers. The explanation is that northern Alaska is low, flat land, with a precipitation so light that the snow
which falls in winter is all thawed away in the spring."

The Arctic grass lands, he says, have caribou in herds of tens of thousands,
and sometimes hundreds of thousands
to a single herd, with lesser numbers of musk oxen here and there. There are the polar foxes, both white and blue, that feed in summer on the unbelievable swarms of lemmings that also form the food of thousands of owls and hawks and gulls. There are the geese and brant and swan and crane and loon, and various species of duck. When you add to this picture the bumblebees, bluebottle flies and abundant insect life, of which the clouds of mosquitoes form the most impressive and least tolerable part,
you get a picture of a country that in summer certainly is not without life.

TODAY BIRTHDAY
OF ROOSEVELT

Portraits of Noted Patriot Being Unveiled in State Armories Carry
Last Message on Americanism.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Oct. 27.—Today is the birthday of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, and portraits of the noted American are being unveiled in virtually every armory in New York State through the efforts of J. Leslie Kincaid of Syracuse, adjutant general of the state.

The portraits bear the title "Keep Up The Fight for Americanism," and carry the last public message of President Roosevelt, which was read at a mass meeting of the American Defense Society in the New York Hippodrome on the evening of January 5, 1919, the night before Roosevelt died.

"This important message to Americans," declared Adjutant General Kincaid today, "from Theodore Roosevelt, as honorary president of the American Defense Society, is an inspiration to all those who have our country's welfare at heart. It provides a fitting memorial for the man who devoted his life to public service, and especially so in the trying period of the World War."

The message on each portrait
reads, in part, as follows:

"I cannot be with you and so all I can do is to wish you God-speed.
There must be no sagging in the fight for Americanism merely because the war is over."

"In the first place we should insist that if the immigrant who comes to America in good faith, becomes an American and assimilates himself to us he shall be treated on an exact equality with everyone else, for it is an outrage to discriminate any such man because of creed or birth place or origin."

"But this is predicated upon the man's becoming in every fact an American and nothing but an American. If he tries to keep segregated with men of his own origin and separated from the rest of America, then he isn't doing his part as an American."

"We have room for but one language here and that is the English language, for we intend to see that the crucible turns our people out as Americans, of American nationality,
and not as dwellers in a polyglot
boarding house; and we have room for but one soul, loyalty, and that is a loyalty to the American people."
